

Violin Repertoire Rotation For Students Working in Book 2

Instructions:

- Remember also to play every piece you have learned so far in Book 2, every day!
- Each time you play your repertoire songs and pieces, strive to make them still more beautiful than the last time you played them. You are a more advanced player now than when you first learned these. Bring your more advanced skills to your polished pieces.
- Are you playing with a beautiful ringing tone? Is your violin comfortably balanced on your shoulder, parallel to the floor? Are both of your hands relaxed and flexible? Are your left hand fingers landing with precise intonation, curved, with their inside corners on the fingerboard? Is your bow moving where it should be, parallel to the bridge? How is your bow distribution (the amount of bow and the part of the bow)? Do you have a wide range of dynamics?
- For your scales and arpeggios, use a variety of bowstrokes, always listening for ringing tone and accurate intonation.
- Also, be sure to transpose all of the folk songs to various keys each time you play them.
- In addition to your repertoire and your working pieces, remember to sight-read daily.
